Curriculum Capture for Year 2 PSHE: Working Together

Key Knowledge and Skills
What makes up my identity? It is important that you are able to recognize and celebrate some of your strengths, emotions, gifts and talents. There are several factors which make up a person's identity. Everyone is unique and everyone has different strengths. We can acknowledge our personal strengths make up part of our identities. We can do this by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• saying something special about yourself and about members of your class or family</li> <li>• recognise what your strengths are and being able to articulate those</li> <li>• recognise and value difference and similarity in people's strengths</li> </ul>	How do I communicate effectively? Developing communication skills is vital as a child and as an adult. Being an effective communicator is needed in many aspects of life. It is important you are able to understand and practice some skills of a good communicator, including listening skills, turn taking and explaining. We can do this by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• demonstrate good listening</li> <li>• take turns and understand why this is important</li> <li>• explain something clearly to a peer or adult</li> </ul>
How do I work as part of a team? Having the skills of being able to work as part of a team is a skill you will need throughout life. To know and practice effective group work skills, including discussion, negotiation, compromise and co-operation will help you become a team player. We can gain group work skills by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• knowing and understanding why it is good to work together sometimes</li> <li>• talk with others to make a decision as a group</li> <li>• recognise others' views</li> <li>• know it's OK to change your mind</li> <li>• say some ways you might sort out a disagreement</li> <li>• know how you might speak to someone to persuade</li> </ul>	How do I reflect on my learning? Being able to evaluate and reflect upon your communication and group work skills is a key skill. Acknowledging and understanding that there will be aspects of your teamwork that went well and that there will be aspects that could be improved for the future is important. We can do this by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• saying what your group did well</li> <li>• saying what your group could do better at next time</li> </ul>
