

31st January 2020

Dear Parents/Carers,

Thank you for all the costumes from today's NSPCC number day. The children looked great and really enjoyed all their active Maths activities this morning. We focused on learning our 3 x tables. Just to remind you, mathematics homework has been set and we encourage all children to complete this as it links to our current learning in the classroom. The children should also access Timestable Rockstars.

We are starting to pack the classrooms up and children will be visiting their new ones and beginning to find their way around next week.

In Maths next week:

We will be continuing to look at the commutative law and focusing on the 3x table.

In English next week:

We will be editing and evaluating our fables and our spelling focus is the prefixes sub- and tele- e.g. submerge, submarine and telegram and telescope.

In Geography next week:

We will be working in groups to present our information posters on European countries to the class.

Please contact us if you have any queries.
